PROFILE

Simon TAY is a Senior Consultant in the Firm focusing on sovereign issues and political risks across ASEAN and on international law.

Simon has extensive experience in the areas of international and public law, with emphasis on environmental, political and economic issues. He is also part of the Firm's Sustainability & Responsible Business Practice. Simon advises multinational corporations on regional business investments and has advised international and regional governments on international law and relations. He has served on the Global Advisory Boards of Mitsubishi UFJ Financial Group, Inc. and Toyota Corporation and was previously corporate advisor to Temasek Holdings.

Simon is the Chairman of the Singapore Institute of International Affairs which represents Singapore in the ASEAN network of think tanks and has advised and worked with a number of the key regional governments. He is appointed as an Ambassador for Singapore, currently accredited to Greece on a Non-Residential basis. He served as an independent and non-elected Member of the Singapore Parliament from 1997 to 2001. From 2002 to 2008, Simon chaired the National Environmental Agency, the main regulator for environmental protection in Singapore, and led public consultations on the national concept plan and the Singapore Green Plan 2012. He represented Singapore at the 2007 Bali COP on Climate Change and the 2002 World Summit on Sustainable Development. In 2006, he received the Public Service Medal, a Singaporean National Day award.

As a professor, he teaches international law and public policy at the National University of Singapore Faculty of Law, and has also taught at Harvard Law School, Yale University and the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy. Simon has authored numerous articles in leading legal and academic journals in the U.S., Canada, Australia and Europe; and his commentaries on Asia feature regularly in the international and regional media, including the BBC, CN, Bloomberg, CNBC, Channel NewsAsia, NHK and CCTV. He is a regular speaker at global meetings including the World Economic Forum, the International Bar Association Conference, Inter-Pacific Bar Association Conference and SIBOS.

Simon graduated from the National University of Singapore and obtained a LL.M. from Harvard Law School where he was a Fulbright Scholar and won the Laylin prize for the best thesis in international law.
